ABOUT GEW

Global Entrepreneurship Week is a movement to celebrate and empower entrepreneurs in every country and community around the world – especially those who face structural barriers or may have never considered the idea of launching a startup. Each November, 10 million people take part in tens of thousands of activities, competitions and events that inspire them to act and provide them with the knowledge, experience and connections they need to succeed.

Global Entrepreneurship Week reaches beyond high-tech startup hubs like Silicon Valley, London and Shanghai. It envisions one entrepreneurial ecosystem open to all, including smaller cities in emerging economies and under-represented communities, whether systemically marginalized, geographically hard-to-reach or otherwise pushed aside or left out. National campaigns are driven by local event organizers who plan activities tailored to their community's needs. Activities can range from small, local gatherings to massive international competitions – or anything in between.

While GEW only takes place one week each year, the connections made are long-lasting. The campaign serves as an opportunity to collaborate and engage with organizations and individuals to celebrate and spotlight entrepreneurs, expose people to the path of entrepreneurship, help them get started and facilitate access to capital and the resources to grow.

Global Entrepreneurship Week is powered by the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation and supported by a range of strategic partners including corporate sponsors like FedEx, entrepreneurship support organizations like Endeavor Global and JA Worldwide, a diverse collection of national host organizations and 25,000 local event organizers.

Partners are encouraged to plan activities tailored to their needs. Activities during the Week can range from small, local gatherings to massive international competitions - or anything in between. Meanwhile, a collection of signature activities provide partners with a ready-made offering and set of instructions to plan a local (or virtual) activity like a Startup Huddle event, Speed Network the Globe session or even a Startup Nations Policy Dialogue for your community.

GEW + WOMEN ENTREPRENEURS

Women are vital to the entrepreneurial ecosystem - from small businesses on main street to companies going public. However, women entrepreneurs face additional challenges when starting and growing business compared to their male counterparts, and require resources to help them navigate the landscape.

Global Entrepreneurship Week highlights women entrepreneurs across the country and around the world and those who are developing new tools to empower their local entrepreneurs.

Benefits of participating:

- Shine a spotlight on women entrepreneurs.
- Raise awareness for resources for women entrepreneurs at the community, state and federal levels.
- Connect women entrepreneurs to capital.
- Share stories of successful women entrepreneurs to serve as an inspiration for current and future entrepreneurs.
